Statement in light of the Toxic Substance Control Act (TSCA)

The Toxic Substance Control Act (TSCA), as amended by the Frank R. Lautenberg Chemical Safety for the 21st Century Act released on June 22nd, 2016, gives the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) the authorities to take expedited actions to propose rules under TSCA, including:

For a new chemical substance or a significant new use of an existing substance it is required to submit a notice of its usage, etc. to EPA, at least 90 days before its manufacturing or processing, for the hazardous assessment to see whether or not a proposed rule is applied.

On July 27th, 2020, the significant new use EPA identified under section 5(a) (2) of the Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA) regarding the import of an article or category of articles with certain PFAS chemicals as part of the surface coating, was finalized into the rule "Long-Chain Perfluoroalkyl Carboxylate and Perfluoroalkyl Sulfonate Chemical Substances; Significant New Use Rule" (85 FR 45109) together with its implementing regulations at 40 CFR Part 721.

Chemicals identified in EPA's update of the TSCA Work Plan in 2014 are required to be put as first priority for the chemical assessment regarding their persistence, bioaccumulation and toxicity (PBT) and other factors, to see whether a proposed rule is applied, under TSCA section 6(h).

The non-confidential portion of EPA's Toxic Substances Control Act Chemical Substance Inventory (TSCA Inventory) is updated approximately every six months. It can be searched in multiple ways. This page provides ways to download the non-confidential Inventory and offers help in using these downloaded files. The August 2023 update is available below. The Inventory contains 86,718 chemicals, of which 42,242 are active: <https://www.epa.gov/tsca-inventory/how-access-tsca-inventory#download>

Inox Tirrenica srl, as a trader of stainless steel fasteners, Maritime items, fittings and Photovoltaics fixing system, based on our current knowledge of our products and understanding of TSCA, declares that:

- ✓ We are free of notification to EPA for any new substance manufactured and new significant use of existing substance.
- ✓ We do not buy products with PFAS coating.
- ✓ We do not buy products with PBT substance.

Therefore, we would like to claim our products do not contain five restricted PBT chemicals above their limits.

Cordiali saluti.
